New SDI-B Admission Portal & Mobile App for Admission Launched

On 18th Sep'23, SDI-B took a significant leap forward in streamlining its admission process. The launch of a new Admission Portal, seamlessly integrated into institute's Core System together with a mobile app 'SDI-B Admissions', for students to write their admission tests, was officially inaugurated by our CEO, Sh. Sanjay K Srivastava. The new Admission Portal, intricately linked with SAP in the back end, has been meticulously designed to simplify the admission process of prospective students. As applicants progress through various stages of application process, from drafting their application to submitting it, appearing in online exams, undergoing video counselling, and ultimately receiving admission results, the portal will be their guide to show their application status. The students can track their application status via a public login.

Our dedicated faculty members, who play an integral role in the admissions process, will also benefit from host of features available within the new system. They can interact with students, provide guidance and counselling, identify suitable candidates for admission, and facilitate document verifications with ease.

To add more convenience for our applicants, the 'SDI-B Admissions' mobile app is now available on Google Play Store. This user-friendly app allows students to take online admission test from the comfort of their preferred location. We believe these technological advancements will simplify and improve our admission process, making it more accessible and efficient for all.

KNOWLEDGE POST

Sapiens – A Brief History of Humankind

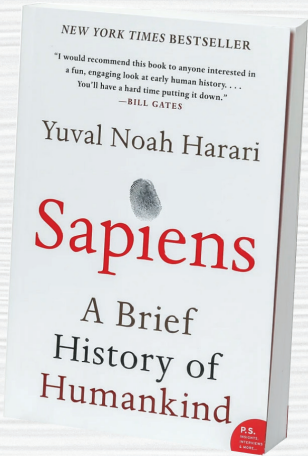

"A Brief History of Humankind" by Yuval Noah Harari is an intellectually stimulating and thought-provoking book that takes readers on a sweeping journey through the history of our species. Harari's ability to distil complex ideas and historical events into accessible and engaging prose is one of the book's standout qualities.

The book is divided into four main parts, each delving into a different era of human history: the Cognitive Revolution, the Agricultural Revolution, the Unification of Humankind, and the Scientific Revolution. Harari's narrative explores how Homo sapiens, an unremarkable primate, managed to dominate the world and become the dominant species on the planet.

One of the strengths of "Sapiens" is its interdisciplinary approach. Harari combines insights from history, anthropology, biology, and even philosophy to provide a holistic understanding of our species' evolution. He challenges conventional wisdom and invites readers to question many of the myths and narratives that underpin our societies. Harari argues convincingly that the ability to create and believe in shared myths-such as religion, money, and nation-states-has been a driving force behind our species' success. This perspective challenges readers to reconsider their views on culture and society.

The book that will expand your horizons and change the way you view human history and society. It's a book that will leave you with a deeper appreciation of the collective journey of Homo sapiens through time. This book is available in our Resource Centre in intranet portal and can be accessed by scanning this QR code.
